GOOD DAY FOR IT — Yesterday's sunny skies brought children flocking to the borough's playground wading pools — and two-year-old Timmy Caseaghenino was among them. Younger children at the playground — those of pre-school age — must be accompanied by an older child or adult, it has been pointed out, but that didn't diminish Timmy's pleasure one bit.

THE ACCIDENT in which Raymond Highley of Corry was killed occurred on Route 6 about ten miles west of Youngsville shortly after 6:15 p.m. The Highley youth was a passenger in the Robert Johnson car.

Three other passengers in the Robert Johnson vehicle also were injured. Sgt. Martin said Mrs. Norma Olson, 18, RD 1, Youngsville sustained a hip fracture and was hospitalized in St. Vincent Hospital, Erie. Her 15-month old son Robert, was detained at the Corry Hospital as was John Johnson, 15, RD 1, Youngsville.

POLICE STATED that Robert Johnson and the other driver, Lorrie Johnson, escaped injury.

According to police, both cars were traveling west on Route 6 when the Lorrie Johnson car attempted to pass the Robert Johnson vehicle and forced it off the highway.

Police stated that as the Robert Johnson car came back on the road, it sideswiped the Lorrie Johnson vehicle. Both cars went out of control, police advised.

The Lorrie Johnson car ran into a ditch and the Robert Johnson car hit an embankment and rolled over several times.

The death of the Corry boy marked the fifth traffic fatality to occur in Warren County this year.

RFK Lauds Nation on Rights Reaction

Civil Rights House Target For Gunfire

McCOMB, Miss. (AP)—Three explosions "like gunshots, only much louder" damaged a civil rights "freedom house" in this southwest Mississippi city before dawn today.

Two civil rights workers—one of them a white summer volunteer — were slightly injured. Eight others were asleep in the house.

The McComb Police Department sent units to the scene and a fire truck stood by until it was determined there was no blaze.

"We are making a full investigation," said an FBI spokesman in the agency's New Orleans office, which covers southern Mississippi. The spokesman said agents had not determined what type of explosives were used.

Ed Rudd, a spokesman for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, said three one-quart oil cans "which we believe contained an explosive of some sort" were found outside the frame house located in the Negro section of McComb.

"We think the three cans were unexploded," Rudd said.

George Green, 20, a Greenwood Negro and SNCC staff worker who was in the house, said he heard "three rapid explosions in succession like gunshots, only much louder."

Curtis Hays, 21, a McComb Negro and also a SNCC staff worker, received cuts on the face and body.

While U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy praised what he called nationwide compliance with the Civil Rights Act, Negroes sought to test compliance in cities which have been major trouble spots in the past.

A massive effort at integration shaped up at St. Augustine, Fla., where Negroes said they would test some 30 establishments.

Three groups of Negroes integrated three motels in St. Augustine Tuesday night. There were no incidents.

"He has spoken out," Kennedy declared. "There is confidence in him and confidence in his judgement, and the people have followed him."

At Richmond, Va., two of the federal officials who will be involved in the workings of the law explained to Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr. of Virginia just what they expect to do.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges and LeRoy Collins, the man named to head the Community Relations Service under Hodges, said the service would merely act as a conciliation force in any civil rights disputes.

In Washington, Collins told senators he looked on his nomination as director of the service as the greatest challenge of his lifetime.

"We approach this with charity and understanding and not with malice toward anyone," he told the Senate Commerce Committee at a hearing on his nomination for the $22,500-a-year job.

A Negro teen-ager said at Bessemer, Ala., that he and four companions were beaten by white men with baseball bats

Scranton Backers Say Goldwater 'Can't Win'

Five Injured In Crashes On Highway

Five persons were treated and released from Warren General Hospital yesterday as a result of two separate accidents investigated by State Police of the Warren sub-station.

TROOPER KENNETH C. WATKINSON stated that two drivers were charged following a traffic mishap which occurred at 4:45 p.m. yesterday, nine miles south of Warren on Route 62.

According to police, a car operated by Vito Costa, 22, Fairmount Road, Watertown, Mass., stopped near a work crew to ask directions. Costa left his car on the highway where it was struck in the rear by a truck-trailer driven by Ralph Lee Cadick, Franklin Ave., Toronto, O.

TAKEN TO WGH were Nancy Costa, 30, Joseph, 8, Diane, 7 and Dean, 3. Police said the four were shaken up but sustained no serious injuries. Damage to the Costa car was estimated at $500.

Costa was charged with making an illegal stop on the highway and Cadick with reckless driving.

A 16-YEAR-OLD Clarendon was injured yesterday at 10:40 a.m. Nancy Wilbur sustained cuts and bruises on both legs and arm and head bruises in an unusual traffic mishap.

Trooper Albert C. Russo said

Scott Says Senator 'Resigned to Defeat'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton's backers hammered at Sen. Barry Goldwater's towering claim on the GOP presidential nomination with a can't-win assault today, as prospects for a civil rights fight dwindled.

Goldwater's declaration in an interview published in a German news magazine that "as of now" no Republican could defeat President Johnson was described by Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., as an admission that the Arizona senator is resigned to losing in November if he becomes the GOP presidential nominee at next week's convention.

Scott, campaign director for the Pennsylvania governor, told a news conference Tuesday that he can beat President Johnson was described by Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., as an admission that the Arizona senator is resigned to losing in November if he becomes the GOP presidential nominee at next week's convention.

You can't give up before the campaign starts," Scott said. "Governor Scranton believes that he can beat President Johnson. He has won before against odds and he'll win again."

Goldwater said in the interview that, as of today, no other Republican had a chance of defeating Johnson in the South. He added that while he wasn't saying that he could do so at the moment, "come election day there is going to be another horse race." He made it clear in this respect that he was speaking not only of the South

U.S., Soviet Seen Headed For New Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union appear to be moving into a major new negotiation on the future makeup, organization and financing of U.N. military forces employed over the world to deal with threats to peace.

The two powers differ sharply on the extent of control which should be vested as a practical matter in the Security Council rather than the General Assembly and on some other issues.

But State Department authorities said today they are encouraged by the latest Soviet move and believe that the Soviet government may be ready to open serious negotiations on these questions and to cooperate with the United Nations to a degree unknown in the past.

—See "U. S.," Pg. 18

IN TEMPORARY QUARTERS — The Youngsville Post Office has moved from its former location to temporary quarters almost directly across the street on Main St. The old postoffice building will be razed to make way for a drive-in branch of the Warren National Bank. A new federal and post office building will be erected soon with funds provided by the General Services Administration.

WORTH THE RISK

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP) — J.R. McAfee, a retired Methodist minister, recalls the time a young girl rode to church on a horse and was left in an embarrassing position.

As she started to dismount, her dress caught in the saddle and she hung suspended, feet off the ground, in a sea of petticoats.

The minister noticing a bunch of teen-agers gaping at the spectacle, warned them to "look the other way, or you're liable to be struck blind."

One of the bigger boys smiled as he slapped a hand over his left eye. "I think I'll risk one eye."

Kane Couple Is Awarded $300,000 Damages in Suit

PITTSBURGH—A young McKeon couple was awarded $300,000 in damages yesterday by a U.S. District Court jury for injuries suffered in a train-car crash near Kane in 1960.

The award—$250,000 to Joseph A. Stubler, 30, of Kane, and $50,000 to his wife, Patricia—was against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

The Stublers contend that a B & O train which hit their car at Frost Crossing on Route 68 in Forest County was traveling too fast for conditions. They also charged that the grade crossing was not adequately protected by signs.

Attorneys said Mrs. Stubler suffered injuries that resulted in the shortening of one leg. Stubler suffered brain damage that has left him unemployable.

Pigeon War Set

ERIE—Erie's upcoming pigeon eradication program will use the best features of several methods, including trapping, netting and shooting, according to the city health director.

He said that "because pigeons feed in flocks and roost in flocks, the use of traps and nets could get the bulk fairly quickly; then a thoroughly regulated shooting program could be used to get the stragglers."

Girl Injured

NORTH EAST—Lynne Hopkins, 16, daughter of North East newspaper publisher Forest Hopkins, suffered a skull fracture when she fell from a horse yesterday afternoon.

She is in Hamot Hospital where her condition is listed as fair.

Site Sought

BRADFORD—The $64 question in city circles these days is where to locate the municipal building.

The only thing apparently known for sure is that not too many months hence the present structure is slated for demolition.

It was once thought that the logical move would be back to the old City Hall at Boyston and Kennedy Sts., but renovation of that building would cost $300,000 plus.

Study Under Way

FRANKLIN—A study of the possible attendance area for a county technical high school is currently being conducted by the county school board.

The county is considering including Titusville and parts of Mercer County in the attendance area for the proposed school.

Building Residence

OLEAN, N. Y.—Construction of the first women's residence hall at St. Bonaventure University started yesterday.

The new hall's two wings, designed to house 318 women students, will be connected by a one-story main entrance, lobby and lounge.

The building, costing about $1.5 million, will be ready for occupancy in September 1965.

School on Way

DUNKIRK, N. Y.—The last major hurdle in the path to construction of the $2.5 million senior high school here was cleared yesterday by council with approval of the site.

The property involved was seized by the city for non-payment of taxes and was sold to the school board for $1,000.

Parents Pay Up

KANE—Parents of nearly a score of local youths, all teenagers, will pay more than $150 in restitution, along with costs of prosecution, in the theft of pop from a local bottling works and watermelons from a store.

Police have been investigating the cases for the past two weeks. Four of the youths were 18 years old without previous records and were fined. The younger group will face McKean County juvenile court authorities.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—A force of Soviet submarines and supporting ships reportedly cruised through the Mediterranean recently, under close scrutiny of a U.S. hunter-killer task force.

The U.S. ships, including one carrier and six destroyers, followed the Soviet subs, took pictures of them and tried to get them to respond to radio signals, it was learned Tuesday night.

Some of the Soviet force entered the Mediterranean through Gibraltar and others from the Black Sea. All are now understood to have returned whence they came.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has received a report that nearly 20 million workers are now covered by federal efforts to achieve equality in all areas of employment.

He told members of the Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, which he headed when he was vice president, that their report shows "we mean business" in government efforts to wipe out bias in employment.

The President added that despite the large strides made so far much remains to be done.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air National Guard hopes to send about 30 jets, piloted by "weekend warriors," across the Atlantic next month to demonstrate its ability to reinforce the regular Air Force in Europe within hours.

If the Air Force approves, the guard for the first time will fly abroad non-stop, using its own tanker planes for aerial refueling.

—Adv.

In Europe the guard planes would fly operational missions for about four days for the U.S. 7th Army.

Dear Abby . . .

By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 15. She ran off with her boy friend, who is 18. They called us the next day from another state and said they were married. They stayed away ten days and then wired me for money to get their car fixed so they could come home. I sent them the money and they came home. When I questioned them about their marriage their answers were very vague, so I became suspicious and asked to see their marriage certificate. They said they lost it. I told them they were not going to share a bedroom in my home unless they could prove they were man and wife. The boy's mother let them stay at her house, and said she trusted them. The boy quit school, can't hold a job and he talked my daughter into quitting school to run off with him. I don't think they ever got married, and it wouldn't surprise me if my daughter were in a family way. We are good Christian people, and this is a disgrace. What should I do?

SORROWING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Ask your clergymen to talk to the young people. And the boy's mother, too. If they are not married, perhaps it would be better if they stayed that way until the boy grew up.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine sold her car last year, and now when she needs transportation, she never calls a cab, she calls me. I know for a fact that I have saved her over $100 in cab fares. She has never once offered to pay for gasoline or parking. She just hops out of the car and says, "Thanks a lot."

Last week I got news that some house guests were coming. I was pressed for time so I asked this friend of mine if she would bake me a cake.

Lutherans Call Court's Ruling On Prayer, Bible 'a Milestone'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court decisions banning required reading of the Bible and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools mark a new era for Christianity, says the Lutheran Church in America.

This observation was contained in a statement adopted, without comment, as church law Tuesday night by the some 700 delegates to the church's biennial convention.

The statement, prepared by the LCA's executive council, called the decisions a "watershed" and read in part:

"They (the decisions) signalize the fact that the United States of America, like many other nations, is past the place where underlying Christian culture and beliefs are assumed in its life."

"The more we attempt as Christians or Americans to insist on common denominator

DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain the difference between FORMAL, INFORMAL and SEMI-FORMAL attire for men who want to be properly dressed? Everyone I ask has a different opinion. Thank you.

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: According to Mr. B. Wien, President of the National Association of Retail Clothing Manufacturers, FORMAL is the ultimate in formal attire. It calls for white tie and tails, and is strictly for after 6 p.m. INFORMAL calls for a suit. Preferably dark. (No tweed or sports coat) SEMI-FORMAL requires a tuxedo—sometimes called "black tie." Dark tuxedos are proper for all-year-round wear, but from Decoration Day until Labor Day, white or pastel tuxedo jackets are also proper.

Cliburn To Conduct, Play at Chautauqua Saturday

CHAUTAUQUA — What may be one of the most exciting evenings of the Chautauqua season takes place Saturday, when Van Cliburn serves as guest conductor and soloist with the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra.

UNDER HIS direction, the orchestra will play "Overture — Colas Bruegnon" (Opus 24) by Kabalevsky and "Symphonic Dances" by Rachmaninoff. Following intermission Cliburn will perform the Piano Concert No. 3 in C (Opus 26) by Prokofieff.

Cliburn's eminence as one of the great pianists of the world is well known; only recently has he begun his own conducting career and the Chautauqua audience will be among the first to watch him on the podium.

AS THE WHOLE world knows, in 1958 Van Cliburn returned from winning the Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow, a hero to all America. He was accorded Manhattan's first ticker-tape parade for a musician, congratulated by President Eisenhower, and given a testimonial dinner luncheon by the great and near-great of New York City.

VAN CLIBURN

Cliburn was born in Shreveport, Louisiana. At the age of three, long before he could read words, Van began to read music. His mother was his teacher until he went to New York in 1951 to study with Juilliard's noted Mme. Rosina Chevinne.

AT AGE 12 he was the win-

State's GOP Delegates Leaving for Convention

HARRISBURG (AP)—The exodus of Pennsylvania delegates to the Republican National Convention at San Francisco is under way.

But the bulk of the 64 delegates, 64 alternates and in some cases members of their families will be leaving by plane on Thursday from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Gov. Scranton, chairman of the delegation and a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, will arrive in San Francisco on Wednesday to take part in the platform hearings.

Some of the delegates are going by auto, some by additional jets the airlines are putting on Thursday and next Sunday.

The extra flights also will accommodate the dozens of Pennsylvania newsmen who will cover the week-long convention at the Cow Palace.

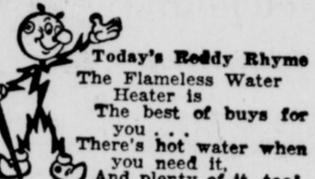

The delegates will stay at the Mark Hopkins Hotel and they will caucus there Sunday evening at a time to be fixed, to determine their strategy during the convention.

All but two of the 64 delegates are committed to Scranton's candidacy, according to an Associated Press survey.

A round-trip ticket by jet between Philadelphia and San Francisco will cost $237.61. The air fare from Pittsburgh will be slightly less.

Expenses of the delegates will, of course, vary widely, depending on whether they take members of their families and their accommodations.

It is estimated that delegates will each spend $1000 on the average. Hotel rooms will cost a minimum of $18-$20 a day.

ner of a state-wide competition and made his Carnegie Hall debut as winner of the National Music Festival Award. Many other awards followed including a Juilliard School scholarship, and his most important victory came in 1954 when he won the coveted Levintritt Award, which carried with it appearances with the New York Philharmonic.

In 1958 after his trip to Moscow, when front page stories of the hysterical acclaim by the Russians began to appear, the Cliburn legend was born overnight in the public mind.

WHEN HE returned to the Soviet recently the great Professor Neuhaus, teacher of Gilels and Richter, said, without reservations, "He is the real and brilliant successor to Rachmaninoff."

And Harold Schonberg, critic of the New York Times wrote, "Cliburn stands revealed as a pianist whose potentialities have fused into a combination of uncommon virtuosity and musicianship."

There are no reserved seats for the Chautauqua appearance in the amphitheater; a crowd of at least 10,000 is expected, and patrons are advised to come early to avoid disappointment in their choice of seats.

Let's Improve It

THE JUNIOR CHAMBER of Commerce July 4th celebration here was a financial disaster for the Jaycees, a group that can hardly afford it. There have been cries to discontinue the program next year — cries which have a distinctly familiar ring.

We don't feel this way. We feel that next year's July 4th celebration here should be, in the words of P. T. Barnum, "bigger and better than ever." And there are ways to do it.

Before getting into suggestions, however, let's clean up a matter which has arisen in some minds. It is the function of a newspaper to tell the truth. It is not our function to serve as a public relations medium for any organization, no matter how worthy. It serves no purpose, for instance, to say that the weather was ideal when it was, in fact, cold and damp. You only make yourself look foolish to the 4,000 or so people who know better. Nor does it make sense to say that an affair was well-attended when only a corporal's guard was on hand. Nor is it sensible to declare that a parade moved on time and smoothly when spectators along the route — to say nothing of judges — remarked that it was quite the opposite. Nor can one call an affair a success that fails financially, when one of its aims is to raise money to help the sponsoring organization.

No, we feel that the real failure in this Fourth of July celebration was promotional, and that this end of the program could have been handled much more efficiently.

WHILE THE Times-Mirror and radio station WNAE co-operated to the fullest in pre-celebration publicity, our two voices do not carry very far beyond the borders of Warren County. Our circulation is concentrated in this county, and WNAE's wattage does not permit it to shout very far beyond the same borders. Therefore, some effort should have been made to interest the area press in the event. This could have been done two ways:

One of the most popular current wars going on in the state of Pennsylvania is that between the attorneys and the members of the so-called "minor judiciary," the aldermen and justices of the peace.

The attorneys, at a recent meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Association in Erie, heard a past president of the organization light into the aldermen to indicate they are "hoodwinking" the voters in an effort to win support for changes in the state constitution which would give the aldermen more power.

The speaker said the aldermen seek to amend the constitution to give JPs and aldermen the right to render legal decisions after they have taken a three-month training course.

Among recent graduates at the Navy's diesel training school at University of Illinois was Bluejacket Henry T. Coan, husband of Frances Coan, of Youngsville. He is still awaiting his next assignment, according to word received today from the school.

A bus loaded with girls left Warren yesterday afternoon bound for North East. There they will enter camp for a couple of weeks and will be engaged in picking cherries and other fruits. The move is one to get the crops handled so that the loss from being unable to handle the crops will be kept to a minimum. The girls were recruited through the local committee engaged in securing emergency farm help. In all about 50 girls made the trip.

Editorial Viewpoints Of Other Leading Area Newspapers

This, said the Bar Association past president, would give the minor judiciary more power.

But, if our interpretation of the operation of the minor judiciary is correct (and we rub up against its operation every day in the week in this business), the aldermen and JPs are making legal decisions NOW without training of any kind. At times this is done with attorneys present and representing the parties involved.

Thus, it appears to us that the aldermen and JPs are not seeking to add to the power they now have but to restrict its use without at least a modicum of training.

The Bar Association favors local courts run by attorneys as the answer. They mean to eliminate the minor judiciary and substitute attorneys who notably work for attorney's fees and not aldermen's fees.

We venture to say that no attorney would sit in judgment of, say, a traffic case, for the same fee an alderman would do the job for.

This would mean increasing costs for the general run of piddling cases handled by aldermen and JPs.

Cases which run to greater seriousness end up in court anyway and the attorneys get their whack at the legal fees.

And, we'll say it again, as loaded as our courts are now (and much of this is due to legal manipulations by attorneys) they cannot stand to be loaded even more with the piddling business generally handled by aldermen.

We suggest the attorneys, instead of criticizing the proposed amendment of the aldermen, make an effort to set the aldermen's sights higher and call for even more than three months training.

Aldermen could then handle the minor cases swiftly and properly.

They could take a huge load off the backs of the courts. —Corry Journal

You might think that a country wrestling simultaneously with such assorted problems as civil rights, a national election, Laos, Viet Nam, the Congo, De Gaulle, Berlin, a shortage of nickels and dimes and waning baseball attendance might not have the time or inclination to whom up another crisis.

If you think that, you are underestimating the crisis capacity of the American people.

A red-hot squabble is now going on in the hallowed halls of Congress over selection of a national flower.

A House subcommittee is valiantly trying to maintain peace and dignity as backers of the rose, the carnation, the marigold, the poinsettia, the corn tassel and possibly the dandelion fight fiercely for their favorite posies amid charges and counter-charges of politics and partisanship.

This Battle of the Blooms promises to be a real—opps! We were about to say "daisy," but that would be taking sides—unless the petal pushers wilt in the summer heat.

There is, however, a consoling thought. A nation that fights for a flower can't be completely crass.

Drew Pearson: Washington Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON — The most drastic impact of the civil rights bill will be felt in five Southern states when school opens next September. At that time these five states stand to lose $15,000,000 of federal funds which all the taxpayers have poured into some 190 Southern cities which have failed to integrate.

For 18 months, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare Office of Education in Washington has been trying to persuade these schools to comply with the Supreme Court ruling. Most of them need the money, but most have refused to move toward integration.

The civil rights bill now gives Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel complete power to shut off these funds in September, or at any other time he wishes. He must submit a report to Congress, but Congress has no power to stop him when he decides to enforce the law.

This will mean either integration, in such states as Mississippi and Alabama where a grim battle is being waged against civil rights, or the cutting off of schools' funds.

In Mississippi, for instance, the Biloxi Municipal School District gets $567,910 of federal funds because it is adjacent to Keesler Air Force Base and therefore entitled to federal help in educating the children of Air Force personnel. The Gulfport Municipal School District receives $204,155, and Harrison County in which Gulfport is located receives an extra $67,735 of federal funds for the same reason.

The Congressman representing this district is Bill Colmer, the Mississippi Democrat, who as a member of the Rules Committee fought against the civil rights bill until the bitter end. He also fought against federal funds to Northern public schools under the proposed aid-to-education bill.

This is where Washington has the fast-talking Governor of Alabama—right over the barrel. The city of Huntsville, site of the big Army space and missile center, for instance, gets $986,591 from Uncle Sam. The city of Montgomery, where Gov. Wallace officially resides, gets $699,562 for its schools because Maxwell Air Force Base is located there. Even Phoenix City, famed for its gambling joints and crime record, gets $84,722 of all the taxpayers' money for its schools.

According to the records in the Department of HEW in Washington, only one Alabama city, Mobile, has integrated. And the deadline for integration or a reasonable plan for early action will be September.

It so happens that because of warm weather, long training periods, plus the influence of Southern Senators in Congress, a preponderance of military establishments are located in the South. This has sent a heavy proportion of federal funds down South to help the schools of so-called impacted areas—a system started during the war, when bases and training camps were set up in a hurry and local communities legitimately needed help.

The schools of Biloxi and Gulfport are under a court order to desegregate, but have not complied. They have also been requested by Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare James Quigley to submit a plan for compliance.

Asked by this column what would happen if a school district refused to integrate, Quigley replied: "We intend to follow the law and if that means cutting off all funds, then that's what will happen."

Alabama presents an equally serious problem. There Gov. George Wallace has stated publicly that he will ignore it. However, he can't ignore the fact that 51 Alabama Cities are receiving $5,730,944 of federal funds without which some of them would either have to close their classrooms or go back to local taxpayers for heavier assessments.

This is where Washington has the fast-talking Governor of Alabama—right over the barrel. The city of Huntsville, site of the big Army space and missile center, for instance, gets $986,591 from Uncle Sam. The city of Montgomery, where Gov. Wallace officially resides, gets $699,562 for its

John Chamberlain: These Days

Goldwater and the Indians

A visitor at the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation at Lame Deer, Mont., is having dinner with the superintendent of the reservation. He notices that the superintendent's teen-age daughter is in tears. The girl has been telling her mother that she is being boycotted by her high school mates because her two best friends are full-blooded Cheyenne Indians.

In Western New York State, the Kinzua Dam, which is designed to impound the waters of the Allegheny River, is just about set for use. Originally, the gates were to be closed this July. But some saving remnant of decency on the part of the authorities that built the dam has resulted in a postponement of the shutting of the gates. When they are finally closed, the Seneca Indians, who were guaranteed possession of their lands "in perpetuity" by the Treaty of 1794, will be flooded out of their Cornplanter Reservation.

These are two examples of discrimination as it strikes at the Indians, those first Americans. Civil rights? Who cares? The Indian vote doesn't matter.

Ironically, in view of the drubbing he has taken because of his vote against what he regards as the unconstitutional Civil Rights bill, Barry Goldwater does care about the Indians. His fight for the Navajos and the Hopis in Arizona was part of his wider struggle to desegregate local airport facilities, moving picture houses and the state's National Guard. For his general work in Arizona desegregation the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People once welcomed Barry Goldwater as a lifetime member of the organization. The NAACP retracted its old opinion of Goldwater the other day when it urged the membership and all Negroes to oppose him for the Presidency.

This sort of politics is short-sighted, to say the least, for it overlooks the fundamental strand in the Goldwater personality, the strand of honor. If Barry Goldwater says he will do his best to enforce the Civil Rights legislation if he is elected President, you may be sure he will. He has been called a man of the eighteenth century. Well, in the eighteenth century they believed in honor. It would be a better country if we had more eighteenth century men around.

On his left hand Barry Goldwater bears a tattoo consisting of four dots. These represent a tribute to him from the Indians, signifying that Goldwater has shown the highest skill in Indian tribal dancing. If he, like Calvin Coolidge of old, were to put on an Indian headdress, it would not in his case be hokum. He even speaks some Navajo and Hopi.

Goldwater earned the respect and affection of the Arizona Indians because he went out of his way to protect and enlarge both their rights and their opportunities. In the nineteen thirties he set up a trading post on a Navajo reservation. He used to ferry in goods to the Indians by plane; indeed, the only crackup in his long career as an air pilot occurred on a takeoff at the reservation. For a long time, any plane, to a Navajo, was a "Goldwater." The name of Goldwater's home is Be Nu I Kin, which is Navajo for "house on the hill."

As for Indian rights, Goldwater was instrumental in setting up voting districts for the Indians in Arizona. He also got some land set aside for the Cocopah Indians near Yuma. He would like to see a bill passed in the U.S. Senate which would allow the Navajos to lease land for ninety-nine years instead of the ten years that are allowed at present.

The American Indian doesn't constitute a pressure group, and he will play little or no part either at the San Francisco convention or in the autumn election. But the Negroes, whose votes do count, might remember that Goldwater's record for standing up for minorities will bear comparison with that of any other man in U.S. politics. There is a danger that Barry Goldwater will be made a victim of "bigotry in reverse."

Cary Sparked The Big Blowup

Gary Grant was the unwitting catalyst in the whole Leslie Caron-Peter Hall-Warren Beatty explosion. Cary invited writer Roderick Mann to Jamaica where he was working on his new picture with Leslie, and Warren Beatty popped down at the same time to visit his new love. Roddy, who had been without a story, suddenly had one. The news broke in London, Peter saw it—and that started the whole action . . . Judy Garland will be confronted by some hefty financial problems as soon as she returns to the United States. Some of her close pals, who recently worked with her, are complaining that they haven't been paid.

London's new scandal will involve the widow of a man who was painted in a sinister light at last year's trial of Dr. Stephen Ward in the internationally notorious Profumo case. The central figure in the new cause celebre is connected with a night spot which allegedly caters to teenagers who are hooked on drugs. Many important British families await the revelations with trepidation, fearful that their children might be patrons of the place.

Sue Lyons, in town for the "Iguana" opening, has never looked slimmer or lovelier, and chums say she's so happy in her marriage to Hampton Fancher 3rd that "she's changed her whole attitude toward life and now is terribly concerned about becoming a really good actress" . . . Miles Davis just broke up his most recent jazz group, his third in as many years. He now has eyes for a band with no saxophones . . . Actress Rita Gam seems to be making it a regular thing with Borden Stevenson, Adlai's boy.

Sandy Dennis, currently such a success in "Any Wednesday," may be the star of Garson Kanin's next play when it's ready for production . . . Vaughn Meader will use a stooge to "heekle" him during his Steel Pier date in Atlantic City starting July 26. He's named the assistant appropriately—Del E. Gates . . . RCA has just signed a recording contract. She's never made a public appearance but she did one demo record that was circulated among top disc companies, and eight of them made offers. Her first single will be out in a week.

Add the African Pavilion at the World's Fair to the list of those exhibits tangling with Robert Moses. They hired a barker to talk people in, and business tripled—but Mr. Moses made them fire him and the box-office plummeted again. The fight may go to court . . .

Producer Sam Weston and director Larry Peerce won the loudest, longest ovation at the Cannes Film Festival that any American picture has rated since the old days of "Marty"—for their "One Potato, Two Potato." It took them two years to raise the $250,000 they needed to make it, and now they have already received two offers from major companies ready to finance them far more heavily on their next project.

A famous actress who has been involved in several not-so-secret extra-marital adventures has a new thing going on the other side of the Atlantic. His name would mean nothing to non-pros, but he's part of show biz . . . Monique Van Vooren's new act, opening at the Plaza Persian Room, will run the fashion gamut—from an Italian evening dress that she says cost $8,000 to a plain black cotton frock she picked up in a New York department store for $12. The inexpensive number is for her tribute to Edith Piaf.

Keeping Well . . .

Almost everyone has had cold sores (herpes simplex) at least once. The primary blister often occurs when the causative virus is implanted in abraded or lacerated skin. A history of contact is difficult to obtain because the infection is so commonplace.

Dr. Ben Selling and Dr. Sidney Kibrick recently reported an unusual outbreak of herpes simplex among five members of a small group of 30 amateur wrestlers who worked out several evenings a week.

The first victim was a 31-year-old mathematician who entered the hospital because of chills, fever, sore throat, headache, and enlarged tender glands in the left armpit. Typical herpetic lesions were noted on the left forearm just above the wrist and new ones soon appeared on the upper back. Fever subsided within 24 hours and, by the end of two weeks, the man felt well enough to return to work. Meanwhile, laboratory tests of the fluid in the blisters were negative for rickettsialpox, the disease originally suspected.

About the same time another wrestler developed identical symptoms and tentative diagnosis of rickettsialpox was made. It was not until the third wrestler was admitted to the hospital that herpes simplex was suspected. The causative virus was isolated by laboratory technicians.

Blood tests were then done on the first two wrestlers and it was obvious that they had the same condition. The remaining two cases also had vesicles on the skin that proved to be herpes simplex. Lesions occurred in a sixth member of the group but his were of the recurrent type of herpes.

The Boston physicians called the infection herpes gladiatorum. The initial attack of herpes simplex is followed by the formation of neutralizing antibodies in the blood. This defense usually is maintained unless overcome by sufficient stress. This leads to recurrences of blisters on the lips, mouth, genitalia, or eyes. The precipitating stress factors include colds, fever, sunlight, menstruation, and allergy to certain foods.

Mrs. L. S. writes: What information can you give me about paint fumes and pregnancy?

Reply—Many pregnant women become nauseated by paint fumes or other disagreeable odors.

J. K. writes: A baby was born with too many red blood cells. The mother took iron all during pregnancy. Any connection?

Reply—Probably not. Most infants are born with a high hemoglobin content.

B. W. writes: Is there a good home remedy for gonorrhea?

Reply—No. There is no substitute for penicillin in the treatment of this disease. In many instances, one injection eliminates the infection.

A. H. writes: What makes a peptic ulcer bleed?

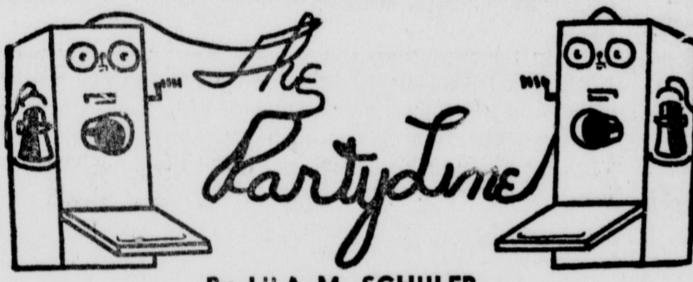

Reply—Erosion of blood vessels by the ulcer as it enlarges or grows deeper.

Here from San Clemente, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaczar and children have arrived from friends in the area are Mr. and Mrs. E. Plumer Mead and their daughter. They were guests for two days of their aunts, Mrs. James and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rapp of 9 Hammond St., Warren. The former Betty Rapp, Mrs. Kaczar timed her visit to coincide with attendance at the 20th-year reunion of the Warren High School Class of 1944.

Mr. Mead was born in Youngsville, lived in Titusville for a time and left here with his mother, a brother and a sister 47 years ago. This is his first trip "back home," and much of his time has been spent looking up old friends of the family.

His father, the late Elmer Mead, and an uncle, Walter Mead, were members of the first baseball team which ever played in Youngsville. Other players still living are Archie Davis, Youngsville, and Ralph Davis, Warren, and he has enjoyed chatting with both during the time he has been here.

An extended vacation planned by the western visitors will include a trip to Niagara Falls, their first; on to the World's Fair in New York City; and a stop with another aunt, Wanda Mead Ong, in St. Petersburg, Fla., before they start homeward again.

We were intrigued with the idea of the "pound party" being given last night by the First Methodist parish in Sheffield as a welcome to the new pastor, the Rev. R. W. Lumsford, and family.

A staff member explained it is an old English custom, each guest bringing a "pound" of this or that for the honored one's larder. In case he could afford it, we were told, the guest might present his host with a pound sterling.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell F. Saunders, 1846 Market St. extension, were their son, 1st Lt. Robert Saunders, Fort Knox, Ky.; their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic A. Printz and daughter of Olean, N. Y.; 1st Lt. William Tilt, Fort Knox; 1st Lt. Tito Sanchez, Puerto Rico, stationed at Fort Devon, Mass.; and 1st Lt. Rex Newman of Hawaii, now with the Army Air Force in Texas.

A visitor in The Times-Mirror news room in the Jaycee Fourth of July parade was Don Mountford of The Toronto Telegram. He expressed interest in the community, the T.M.'s modern plant, and was amazed at the promotion given the weekend celebration by the news paper.

The Rev. R. Bruce Ryan, former vicar of St. Francis of Assisi Episcopal Church in Youngsville, is here with his family from Boca Raton, Fla., for a month's vacation with friends in Warren and Youngsville. They are maintaining headquarters at a furnished home in Smethport during their visit north.

Supper Will Be Featured For Watson

The regular meeting of Watson Grange 1068 has been planned for Thursday evening, with a 6 p.m. tureen birthday supper preceding the business session.

At the last meeting, seven members were given the Third and Fourth degrees by members of Warren Grange. The new members are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bailor, Mr. and Mrs. James Puleo, Mr. and Mrs. George Hulings and Perry Spencer.

The literary program consisted of a song, "The Quilting Party," "Dairy Farmer's Lament," Guy Wilcox; "Meadow Romance," Lottie Chapel; song, "Home on the Range;" "A Father's Ten Commandments," Gertrude Edmiston.

A gift was presented to the oldest father present, Jerald Johnson of Warren Grange.

Reunion

RUSSELL — Wednesday, July 15, is the date set for the annual get-together of the Russell Schoolgirls' reunion group, all those who attended classes in the old building prior to 1918.

The affair will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Ruth Houghwot Ward, 1285 Fifth Ave., east extension, Warren, with dinner at 1 p.m. Each is asked to bring a tureen and table service, the meat to be provided.

Mariners List Breakfast Plans

The Mariners of First Presbyterian Church have planned a breakfast at 9 a.m. Sunday in Washington Park and ask that reservations be made no later than Friday by calling 723-5625.

Fred Bell and his committee has promised a breakfast menu of bacon, eggs, toast and coffee. This is a family affair, it is indicated, and members are asked to bring any special foods required by their children, also their own table service.

Honor Guests

RUSSELL — Open house, marking the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Kitelinger, will be observed in the family home in Liberty St. extension, from 2 until 5 p.m. Sunday.

Planning the function and inviting all the couple's relatives, neighbors and other friends are their children, Mr. and Mrs. Clair (Doris) Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas (Marjorie) Lundberg, Russell; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kitelinger, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kitelinger, Warren.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES MANNINGBevevino and Manning
Wedding in St. Joseph's

Announcement has been made of the marriage on May 30 of Patricia Ann Bevevino and James Manning. She is the daughter of John Bevevino and Mrs. E. Paul Parisi and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Leona Manning.

White snapdragons and ferns decorated the altar in St. Joseph's Church for the 11 a.m. ceremony performed by the Rev. Rocco A. Tito, assistant pastor. Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Donald Edinger, organist.

THE BRIDE was given in marriage by her father and attended by Mrs. Mary Pat Tinelli as matron of honor. George Manning was best man for his brother and guests were ushered by the bride's brothers, Paul and Lawrence Bevevino.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of white lace and carried a Colonial floral arrangement centered with an orchid. Mrs. Tinelli wore pink-trimmed lace and carried a Colonial bouquet, also.

Favored with corsages of white roses, the bride's mother selected a beige eyelet dress and white accessories, the bridegroom's mother added red accents to a navy blue outfit. Mrs. M. W. Rossell, grandmother of the bride, was remembered with a corsage of white roses.

THE CEREMONY was followed by a wedding breakfast at the Penn Laurel Motel for the

Ackley Grangers Will Stage
'Hobo Convention' Activities

AKELEY—The next meeting of Ackley Grange, scheduled on July 17, will be in the form of a "hobo convention," the committee has announced. Howard Fox and Elton Cable are directing the arrangements, which will include the crowning of the individual chosen as "hobo king."

Weather permitting, the program following the meeting will be staged on the Grange Hall's back lawn. All are asked to "come as you are" for the event and each Grange family is requested to bring extra wieners or hamburgers for the guests.

DETAILS of the plans were disclosed by the committee at Friday's Grange meeting conducted by Carver Wiltsie, master.

Mrs. Paul Kelley gave a detailed report of the leadership training school she attended at the Pennsylvania State University last week. She said she attended courses in tableaux and pantomimes; reducing rural poverty; raising moral and ethical standards; and recreation in the Grange hall.

In conjunction with the holiday observance, Mrs. Kelley read an article on citizenship and the group sang "America the Beautiful."

Half the hands dealt in bridge are part-score, not game-going hands, but even the part-score hands sometimes generate excitement.

This deal was played by Argentina and the United States in 1959. When the United States pair, Lazard and Fry, held the North-South cards, the bidding went as shown.

Fry took the club lead with the ace and returned the jack of clubs. East covered with the king, ruffed low by South and overruffed with the five. West returned the queen of spades.

Cow Palace No Place for Cows Today; Workers Scramble To Prepare for GOP

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Cow Palace is no place today for cows or people.

Work is moving along briskly and noisily to transform the big exhibition hall and home of a professional ice hockey team into the arena for selecting the 1964 Republican ticket. The convention opens Monday.

Flags of the states have been draped on both sides. A new electronic score board has been installed to flash a running total of the vote for the presidential nomination. Most of the delegation phones are in. The major business of erecting the platform area, however, is only half completed. Workmen are still erecting partitions off the floor for various activities.

Members of the convention arrangements committee made their way through the lumber and wires Tuesday to assess the progress.

"It's working out very well," said Clare Shank of St. Petersburg, Fla., a GOP national committeewoman and a former assistant national chairman.

Mrs. Shank said she was delighted that so little room for the 1,308 delegates had been sacrificed in enlarging the platform space allowed for the 1956 Republican convention in the same hall.

Back at the headquarters hotel, there were happy tidings for people who'd like to attend the "GOParty Gala" convention eve but don't have $500 in cash for a ticket.

Just charge it, the sponsors said.

More specifically, the national Republican senatorial and congressional committees announced they'll accept credit cards for the foremost social event of the convention.

What will the guests get for their $500?

An engraved ticket, the size of a calling card, engraved in silver and blue, and packaged in a dark blue leather jewelry box. The box also will contain a tiny silver pin in the shape of the Capitol dome.

A chance to get a close look at all party presidential possibilities and dignitaries and to mix with what advance publicity bills as numerous movie and television personalities.

An elaborate buffet and drinks, dancing to two orchestras and banjo entertainment.

Proceeds will help finance election expenses for Republican candidates for the Senate and House in the fall campaigns.

Scranton Off Today For San Francisco

CHICAGO (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton heads for San Francisco today to try to upset what he termed the "political steamroller" of Sen. Barry Goldwater at the Republican National Convention.

Scranton has challenged the front-running Arizona senator for the GOP nomination. Tuesday night in a nationally televised political program on NBC the governor accused Goldwater managers of "smears" and "every conceivable kind of pressure and threat" to keep the nomination from Scranton. The convention opens Monday.

Said Scranton: "They (the Goldwater managers) are trying to create a political steamroller unparalleled for its toughness, its callousness, its total disregard for the opinion of rank-and-file Republicans."

The governor declared that "every survey taken shows that I'm leading him in the number of rank-and-file Republicans—Republican voters that is—who would prefer that I be the candidate."

"Sen. Goldwater's managers know this, so they have undertaken a no-holds-barred campaign to see to it that the delegates at the convention do not reflect the wishes of the people back home."

Scranton said the Goldwater forces are circulating a pamphlet

CATFISH STORY

CARROLLTON, Ky. (AP) — Bank president Perry Dean and cashier Jack Way are telling a new kind of fish story.

They say a line was dropped out the window of the Kentucky State Bank when floodwaters from the Ohio River lapped at the building.

To their surprise, a one-pound catfish was landed.

Del. Assembly Set To Act On Districting

DOVER, Del. (AP)—The Delaware General Assembly prepared today to act on a bill delineating reapportionment of the state legislature.

The bill, introduced Tuesday and sent to the Revised Statutes Committee, is the second step in the legislature's attempt to reapportion itself on a population basis, as recently ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court.

It sets actual boundaries of the reapportionment proposal adopted Monday by the Democratic controlled assembly in a vote closely following party lines—21-7 in the Senate and 24-11 in the House.

The reapportionment bill authorizes a House of 35 members and a Senate of 18.

U.S. District Court is scheduled Friday to determine the speed and procedure to be followed in reapportionment under the Supreme Court mandate.

An engraved ticket, the size of a calling card, engraved in silver and blue, and packaged in a dark blue leather jewelry box. The box also will contain a tiny silver pin in the shape of the Capitol dome.

Romney, Lodge Appear Before Platform Group

By LEWIS GULIC K

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two prominent Republicans who once figured in speculation for the 1964 presidential nomination tell platform writers today what pledges they think the party should make in the coming campaign.

Henry Cabot Lodge and Gov. George Romney, who say they are not available for the nomination, were the scheduled star witnesses as the GOP platform committee reached mid-point in its pre-convention week of hearings. Thursday and Friday the avowed candidates, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, take the stand.

Lodge's appearance underlined foreign policy in the platform debate after two days of emphasis on civil rights left that issue still unresolved.

The 1960 Republican vice presidential nominee and ambassador to the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration, Lodge resigned as ambassador to South Viet Nam last

Kane Couple Gets $300,000 Balm from B&O

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A U. S. District Court jury has awarded $300,000 in damages to a young McKean County couple injured in a train-car crash near Kane.

The jury ruled Tuesday that Joseph Stubler, 30, of Kane, be awarded $250,000 and his wife, Patricia, be awarded $50,000 for injuries suffered when their auto collided with a Baltimore and Ohio train.

The award was against the railroads.

The Stublers contended the train was traveling too fast for conditions when it hit their car in 1960 at a crossing on Route 68 in Forest County. They also claimed the crossing was not adequately marked.

An attorney for the couple said Mrs. Stubler suffered injuries that resulted in the shortening of one leg and that Stubler suffered brain damage that left him unemployable.

PSU Names New Development Head

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Wayne V. Strasbaugh, director of development at Lebanon Valley College the past four years, will step into a similar post at Pennsylvania State University on Aug. 15.

Strasbaugh, whose appointment was announced here Tuesday, will be responsible primarily for the university's fund raising efforts with corporations and foundations and for the institution's estate planning.

believes there is still room between the Goldwater and Scranton positions to work out wording endorsing the law.

Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill in the Senate, saying major parts of it are unconstitutional. He says he would enforce the law as president because that is the chief executive's duty.

The platform group's executive committee held its first meeting Tuesday night and authorized drafters to start work on the document.

Kids Picket Candy Store In 'Protest'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After a show of force, a dozen kids have converted a candy store owner to their way of thinking.

Their way of thinking is that when you are at a candy counter trying to make up your mind you don't like to be rushed.

They considered that Mrs. Antoinette Mufarreh was rushing them in her Noe Hill market at 4001 Noe St. So they marched on the market and protested.

Mrs. Mufarreh agreed they should not be rushed at such a critical time.

"She's a very nice lady," said Kevin Fregosi, 4, savoring a mint.

Goldwater Isn't Worried About Party's Platform

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater isn't worried about the Republican party platform, his campaign director said today.

Denison Kitchel said in an interview he doesn't think the forces opposing the senator in his front-running bid for the GOP presidential nomination have enough delegate strength to win adoption of platform planks aimed at embarrassing the Arizonans.

Goldwater takes his conservative case to the resolutions committee Friday morning. He will fly to San Francisco Thursday.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton has demanded platform planks repudiating "extremist groups of both the left and the right" with a specific condemnation of the John Birch Society, and declaring the constitutionality of the new Civil Rights Act.

Goldwater has said he disagrees with the leaders of the Birch Society, but declared in San Francisco March 15: "I will take the support of any American who is not a Communist."

He voted against the civil rights bill on grounds two sections were unconstitutional.

Kitchel said a plank affirming constitutionality of the new law would be ridiculous because that is a judicial question, not a political one.

He said the suggestion that extremist groups be denounced would turn the platform into a long list of organizations.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market retreated somewhat early this afternoon from its historic peak.

Prices were generally sluggish in moderately active trading.

Wall Street wasn't worried about the stalling of the advance that sent the averages to successive highs. Brokers felt that a breathing spell was in order.

Some specialty issues showed good gains in a list that was generally mixed.

Tobaccos, utilities and drugs were the only groups able to stay in the plus column.

Rails were hit by profit-taking. Pennsylvania Railroad lost nearly a point while most of the other carriers were off fractions.

Steels were weak with only Bethlehem managing a small gain.

Utilities showed strength as the Dow Jones utilities average topped the old record set in 1929. The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had declined .2 to 317.1 with industrials off .1, rails off .2 and utilities unchanged.

At noon, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 0.09 to $44.85.

American Telephone lost a point on what a broker attributed to profit-taking by the funds.

After reports of good sales gains by retail chains and catalogue firms, Sears Roebuck advanced nearly half a point and Montgomery Ward added a small fraction.

High Voltage Engineering, which announced a new product, tacked on a point.

Among the utilities, Consolidated Natural Gas, Commonwealth Edison and Consolidated Edison picked up about half a point.

UAW Bargaining Team Begins Contract Talks with American

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT (AP) — A United Auto Workers bargaining team headed by Union President Walter P. Reuther opened contract talks today with American Motors Corp., the firm which provided a dramatic breakthrough in 1961 negotiations.

Talks with the Big Three car makers—Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp.—began last week. AMC is the smallest of the major car producers.

Under the profit-sharing arrangement, a percentage of AMC's pretax adjusted earnings is put into a fund. Some of the Company spokesmen would give no advance hints of the position AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman would take in today's opening round. Last time around, Cushman and Michigan's Republican Gov. George W. Romney, then president of the company, authored the auto industry's first profit-sharing plan.

Under the profit-sharing arrangement, a percentage of AMC's pretax adjusted earnings is put into a fund. Some of the money is used to finance insurance and pension improvements and some phases of supplemental unemployment benefits.

Some of the fund is used to purchase company stock, which is distributed to workers on a formula based on years of service. The stock must be held for three years, except in case of personal emergency.

Some AMC workers have indicated they would rather have cash. This may be discussed at the bargaining table.

State AFL-CIO Will Spend $200,000 in Election Year

HARRISBURG (AP)—An 11-member political action committee of the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO plans to spend $200,000 in this election year to promote the views of organized labor.

An AFL-CIO spokesman said Tuesday efforts would be directed at increasing voter registration and getting out the vote on election day.

The AFL-CIO at its recent state convention in Pittsburgh approved a three-cent per capita increase in assessments to provide the committee with operating funds.

The committee and its staff will function primarily in 14 counties in industrial areas, according to the labor spokesman.

The counties were not named. One source said, however, that legislators from marginal districts who voted for the Scranton administration's unemployment compensation program would be prime targets for labor. The state AFL-CIO vowed to work for the defeat of any lawmaker who supported the administration on the controversial question.

Unemployment In State Hits 11-Year Low

UNEMPLOYMENT—1 18-Pg 9

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Labor and Industry Department says unemployment in Pennsylvania last month was recorded at 274,000, lowest June level since 1953.

In its monthly report released Tuesday the department said the unemployment rate was 5.9 per cent, compared with 216,000 jobless workers, or 4.5 per cent of the work force, in June, 1953.

Last month's figure was higher than that recorded for May when 250,000, or 5.5 per cent, of the state's workers were jobless.

Schlueter is employed by Sylvania Electric Products Inc., which is developing equipment to be carried aboard the orbiting lab.

The lab will process its observations of cosmic targets and store them in a memory unit for later transmission to ground stations.

Woman Is Celebrating Hiciness

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Today is a happy anniversary for Lucy McDonald. It is the anniversary of her bout with the hiccups.

The 38-year-old red-haired mother of three says she couldn't be happier. The nicsups stopped about a week ago.

Mrs. McDonald received thousands of letters, telegrams and telephone calls after an Associated Press story described her plight. Most suggested home remedies for curing the hiccups.

The remedy which apparently cured her came from a druggist for whom she now works.

The pharmacist, Roy Faith, said: "I just gave her a drug which is commonly used. I cannot say what it was because I am not a physician and I cannot prescribe. The important thing is that she is cured."

Whether the hiccups have gone for good is a question, but Mrs. McDonald says this is the longest period of time she has been able to breathe with ease in a year.

"You can't imagine how thankful I am," she said. "It is such a little thing to be able to breathe without hiccupping. This was the worst year of my life."

Mrs. McDonald was a waitress until she lost her job because waitresses aren't supposed to hiccup constantly.

She tried several other jobs. Each time she was discharged because of the hiccups.

She now works behind the soda fountain in the drug store.

Altoona Begins $2.4 Million Hospital Task

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Joseph Orr Sr., president of the Altoona Hospital board of trustees, turned the first spadeful of earth Tuesday in groundbreaking ceremonies for the hospital's $2.4 million chronic care wing.

The ceremonies were attended by federal, state and local officials.

Completion date for the 126-bed wing has been set for December, 1965. The Federal government has contributed $900,000 under the Area Redevelopment Act.

Investing

Wisely

By SAM SHULSKY

Q.—We have $2,000 in a retirement fund earning 4 1/2%. This is our only retirement fund except for social security. We have $500 in savings and add $10 a month. Should we shift the $2,000 into growth stocks? Which? We are 35 and 25.

There isn't much argument

— you should consider growth stocks.

But I can't understand your rush to wipe out most of your savings in order to acquire

$2,000 worth of stock on one person's emergency.

You have many years ahead of you for earning and investing.

The $2,000 is doing a good job, earning 4 1/2% and still available as an emergency fund. (The $500 account is not enough.)

Why not let it stand and gradually acquire a portfolio of growth stocks by investing a few hundred every quarter or half year?

Q.—After the listing of Chase

Manhattan, there is a figure

"1.90". What is that?

A.

— It's the annual dividend

— $1.90 a year, 4 1/2 cents each quarter.

Q.—My income is $700 a month, less $75 for savings bonds and stock. Can I afford a $20,000 home without down payment?

A.

— $20,000 is about 2 1/2

times your annual income — so that rule of thumb says O.K.

If you get a 25-year mortgage at 5 1/2% your monthly payment would be $122.82. To this you must add taxes, insurance, repairs, water. It should come to about one week's salary. So another rule of thumb checks out.

Q.—I have $3,000 I would like to invest in the new Woolworth stock when it is listed on the Big Board at $28 with 3 1/4

earning power.

A.

— Your heart's in the right place, but even so you should have a better understanding of the terms involved.

Woolworth has been listed for many, many years. It did not "go on the board" at 28. "Earning power" is not what you mean.

The facts are that Woolworth

ARTISTIC CABINET WORKS

JAMESTOWN, N. Y.

The Busy Bee at 229½ Pennsylvania Ave. west, will have a Grand Reopening of the newly redecorated restaurant and cocktail lounge Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

FLOWERS and messages of congratulations are beginning to pour into the establishment, which is popular with sports fans as well as those who enjoy a good steak dinner.

In fact it might almost be called the indoor sports center of Warren, for major games are always on television there or being played on Carl Vavala's portable radio.

IT IS NOTHING unusual for American League fans to be glued to the television set, with Sam Vavala leading the rooting for the Yankees while Pirate fans are clustered around Carl's radio—and vice versa, depending upon which games are being played where.

The same holds true in football season, with sports fans rooting for their favorite team on either medium.

More games are won and lost and discussed before, during and after in the Busy Bee than probably in any other place in Warren.

THE THREE Vavala brothers—Carl, Frank and Sam—will argue any point at any time, regardless of the season or team. They know the players, their strong points and weaknesses.

And they're equally emphatic in discussing local teams, particularly the Busy Bee Mets, formerly the Schaefer Mets when brother Sam was operating Crescent Beer Distributors.

Major news events are also watched closely by many when the television set is tuned to these affairs—such as Presidential press conferences, political conventions and events of world impact such as the assassination and funeral of President Kennedy last November.

THIS IS THE first time that the restaurant and cocktail lounge has been redecorated since it opened in its present location in 1953. The original Busy Bee was opened in 1936.

The new color scheme is black and white with turquoise and red, and gold accents.

THERE IS WALL to wall deep pile red carpeting, broken only by a broad black and white flor tile stripe that separates the bar from the lounge and dining sections.

Tables are white flecked with gold. Booths, bar chairs and oak captains' chairs for the dining and lounge sections are upholstered in black and white leather.

THE BAR AND back bar are in padded turquoise and there is a padded black leather arm rest at the edge of the bar. Doors leading to the Birch Room, used for private parties, and the kitchen are in padded gold, and gold accent screens separate the cocktail section from the main restaurant and bar.

The oak paneled ceiling features white acoustic tile between beams. Walls are oak paneled and decorated with plaques reminiscent of the days when knighthood was in flower, except for one corner where there is a photo mural in color of a Hawaiian scene.

FIVE-LAMP chandelier-type lighting fixtures can be adjusted to provide dim to bright lighting as the occasion requires. Light troughs above the wall paneling warm the glow of the ceiling lights. There are modern spotlights over tables at the front of the restaurant and indirect lighting increases the soft illumination at the rear.

THE VAVALAS — Carl and Sam Vavala are the two biggest rooters of the three Vavala brothers—Carl for the Pirates and Sam for the Yankees. Sam tends bar in the daytime and Frank, who was in the kitchen when the picture was taken, in the evening. All three are fine cooks and ready to greet the returning Warreneite as well as the visitor.

glasses and a very new installation by Canada Dry of taps for ginger ale, soda and other mixers.

The Birch Room, downstairs, which needed no redecorating, seats up to 25 people for business meetings, cocktail parties, showers or receptions, with dinner served if desired.

OTHER innovations in the "new Busy Bee" include new ivory phones installed by Bell Telephone Co., a hand set behind the bar and a coin set at the rear where pad, pencil and ash tray are provided for those who make or receive calls.

There are new, very modern rest room indicators, new hat and coat racks at the front and rear. But the very new, up-to-date cash register is still highlighted by the lighted replica of the famous Anheuser Busch Clydesdale horses.

THERE ARE also new bar home-made soups are also the order of the day during winter months, prepared by brother Carl.

BUSINESS people, particularly on Friday night, frequently stop for a sandwich and salad. Others, with more time, order the entire dinner.

The present location of the Busy Bee is the third within a few feet of each other since Carl Vavala first opened the establishment May 1, 1936 after coming to Warren from Kinzua.

The original restaurant and bar was in the present federal building at 237 Pennsylvania Ave. west and was moved in 1944 to the Segel Block at 229, with the new building constructed immediately next door at 229½.

AN ACCOUNT which appeared in The Times-Mirror June 24, 1953 when the new facilities at 229½ were originally opened aptly describes the growth of Busy Bee as it was known then and is now:

"The new building is a monument to the integrity and business sagacity of a civic minded Warren resident who came to this country from Italy when he was but eight years of age."

"THE BUSY BEE, wherever it has been located has been a popular meeting place for the out-of-school young men and within its walls many a sports discussion has taken place, man a game won or lost before it was played and many a game played over and over again even years after it occurred."

"World champions have been decided upon, at least to the satisfaction of Busy Bee habitues, in advance of the matches, and afterward, every round fought again and again under the Busy Bee roof."

"IT IS GENERALLY conceded that the young man whose job has taken him away from Warren and who comes back for an occasional visit, has not really arrived in town until he has 'checked in' at Carl's Busy Bee."

The description is just as true today. Men out of service and transferred business people visiting relatives here or just passing through stop in the Busy Bee automatically to say "hello" to Carl or Sam or Frank and any old acquaintances they may meet there.

THE BAR AND restaurant are housed in a fireproof building of steel and concrete built on a lot Carl Vavala purchased from John Hanna.

Assisting Carl in operation of the establishment are two younger brothers, Sam and Frank, both of whom served in the U.S. Army. Cpl. Frank Vavala was a steward at the Officers Club while on duty at Fort Hood, Texas.

CARL VAVALA is the son of Mrs. Nancy Vavala, 703 Fifth Ave. west, and the late Joseph Vavala. He is married to the former Theresa R. Scalise and lives at 41½ Laurel St. with his son Eugene, who will be a senior at Warren Area High School next year.

Two other sons are serving with the U.S. Army, Joseph who is in Korea and Anthony who is stationed in Washington.

Sam, Carl and Frank Vavala invite all their old friends to visit the new Busy Bee for the gala re-opening and bring friends and relatives with them.

COZY CORNER — Groups of two or four are usually seated at the small tables here, but parties of 14 can also be accommodated in this section at the front of the restaurant. The new draperies and flower arrangements are also shown in the picture as well as the wall plaques and special lighting fixtures for this section.

THE HAWAIIAN CORNER — There are two sections in the new Busy Bee which are very popular at the cocktail hour. In this one, above, can be seen the large photo mural of a scene from Hawaii and part of the gold accent grill which separates this section from the bar. The oak captains chairs and wall seats are upholstered in black and white leather. Tables are white flecked with gold. Two recessed overhead lamps bring out the colors in the mural and cast a soft glow on the tables.

Stone Mountain Poses Problem for Georgia Folks

By ARTHUR HILL

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — It's a piece of exposed granite — the largest in North America, so they call it Stone Mountain.

But the distinguishing, most consistent feature of this bare outcrop of rock is not visible among the stubble of stunted trees and the adolescent beard of moss and wind-clipped grass that covers part of the mountain.

That feature is controversy, for Georgia citizens have spent half a century trying to decide what to do with their 800-foot-high geological oddity.

The latest argument centers on delays and the charges of several legislators of the mismanagement of funds in the construction of a state park to turn the mountain into a tourist attraction.

Eleven million dollars of a total cost of $15 million has already been spent by the Stone Mountain Memorial Association, a state agency, on the initial group of park projects. This has required an additional $5 million boost from the state legislature to ease some of the association's debt problems.

A 92-unit motel, scheduled for completion July 1, 1963, is still not complete and no one knows when it will be, although the estimated cost has shot from $1.3 million to $1.8 million.

An association spokesman says the motel, a combination of ultramodern and antebellum architectural features, says the building will be ready for the grand opening of the park next spring. The grand opening by the way, was supposed to have been this year.

"What's held us up," says the spokesman, "is the construction of a bypass for U.S. 78. The highway now runs through the center of the park."

He says the completion date of the motel, now with unfinished walls and courtyard and minus furnishings, will depend on the issuance of a second $5 million bond issue, which Georgia Gov. Carl Sanders has held up pending an investigation.

But the spotlight on such items as the motel and the $737,000 museum building on top of the granite slab has not dimmed some people's enthusiasm.

"I think it's good publicity," says Albert Goza, one of the security men at the park. "I believe it's better to get any discrepancies fixed up so the people will feel better about it when they come out here."

Receptionist Myrtice Weatherly believes that attendance at the park has been stimulated rather than depressed.

"You can hardly move on weekends, it's so crowded," Mrs. Weatherly says.

Whether it is worth $1.60 or not, a recent group of tourists appeared to enjoy their trip on the scenic railroad that runs for about a mile around the base of the mountain. The simulated Indian raids and wild west flavor of the ride went over favorably with the passengers, many of them children.

A huge sculpture of the Confederate generals Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, and the president of the confederacy, Jefferson Davis, carved into the face of the mountain is no more finished now than it was 25 years ago when the barest outline was visible.

In the past six months, however, scaffolding has been erected for its completion.

Plans for one sculpture or another have been a source of fuel for the Stone Mountain controversy.

The present sculpture was begun more than 25 years ago, but the stock market crash of 1929 cut short an earlier association's source of funds.

Actually, the idea for a giant sculpture goes back to 1915 when the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Atlanta hired Gutzon Borglum, a famous artist of the time, to carve Lee's head into the mountain. He was the one who later created the Mount Rushmore memorial in South Dakota.

Borglum got a guarantee of $250,000 if he completed within three years an expanded mural depicting "the great characters of those days, in action, mounted or on foot, moving cross the mountain."

World War I intervened, however, and it was not until 1924 that Lee's head was done.

That was all that Borglum got to do as internal squabbles, money problems and political interference caused a halt to the project.

For three years the sculpture lay dormant until a Virginian, Augustus Lukeman, was hired to complete it. Lukeman dynamited Borglum's work off the mountain and began over, finishing his version of Lee's head, plus an outline of the other figures, in 1928. The sponsors ran out of funds at this point.

A Gloucester, Mass., sculptor, Walter Kirtland Hancock, has been hired by the present association to finish Lukeman's work.

Rules Group Will Report On Baker

WASHINGTON (AP) — A politically divided Senate Rules Committee files Democratic and Republican reports today on Bobby Baker's money-making dealings.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority after a $350,000 damage suit against him and others by a local vending machine company spotlighted his outside business dealings.

The Rules Committee's investigation of whether his activities conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties reached a climax when Baker invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions.

Testimony received by the committee showed that Baker, a one-time Senate page boy from Pickens, S.C., claimed to have acquired a fortune of more than $2 million before he resigned his $19,600-a-year post.

ART AND BEEF

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Probably the world's only combination meat market and art gallery is in El Paso at the Crossroads Meat Market. "Andy" Anderson sells sides of beet there and his wife Ferne exhibits her oil paintings on the walls. It's a pleasure for housewives shopping for the week's meat to be able to take in a rotating art exhibition at the same time.

ANOTHER RATTLESNAKE KILLED—W. V. Coombs, who has a summer residence at 22 Riverside Drive, RD. Warren, displays a rattlesnake killed Monday by his son Robert, age 14. The reptile turned up four-tenths of a mile from the Putnam Eddy drive of the Morris Shulman home and six-tenths of a mile from Hemlock Creek. Coombs expressed his fear that with the rattlers obviously in the area, some child might fall victim. Another snake was killed in that general area last weekend.

Admiral Felt, Now Retired, Gives Views on Viet Nam War

By MALCOLM BARR

HONOLULU (AP)—Don Felt sat in the shade of a breadfruit tree, pensively stirred his glass of iced tea, and talked about Southeast Asia and communism.

Three days before, four-star Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of all United States military forces in the Pacific, exchanged his uniform for the conservative sport shirt and slacks he was wearing at his new home in a fashionable Honolulu suburb.

Felt's mandatory retirement at 62 came after 41 years service in the Navy. He was Pacific military commander for six of those years.

Felt, in his first interview as a civilian, was asked what a Communist victory in Viet Nam would mean.

"I can't visualize us losing," he replied.

But, he said, "psychologically we'd lose all our Asian friends, and you could hardly blame them. They have their own interests to look out for. They'd have some hard decisions to make."

major cities in Southeast Asia are just now beginning to realize what the fighting is all about,

Felt said. He stressed the importance of providing them with material things—a well, a road, a hospital, a schoolhouse.

The admiral thinks the U.S. military effort should be followed up by civilian advisors to help rural populations.

"But all this takes time," he said. "The programs are all there but they have to be implemented."

Looking farther north, Felt discussed the problems of Korea. He made two points:

—The economic situation in Korea is not good. Yet the country is maintaining a large military force that costs the Koreans—and the United States—a lot of money.

—North Korea has built up a modern jet air force, making South Korea vulnerable to air attack.

Felt said South Korea's generals have emphasized to him that the level of their forces must be maintained. If forces are reduced, will the Communists try another invasion?

Felt thinks they very likely would.

An AP News Analysis

Reds Shift War's Center To Viet Nam Highlands

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Communists have shifted the center of their war effort in South Viet Nam from the swampy Mekong delta to the central highlands in the past 10 days.

Senior Vietnamese officers believe the Reds have moved troops in from North Viet Nam to get the war momentum moving the highlands, a region that has been relatively quiet in the past 18 months.

In the past week, three assaults have erupted out of the central mountains. Two isolated special forces camps were hit.

Newsmen in the central Viet Nam capital of Hue were told Tuesday that the Communist battalion that hit the special force outpost of Nam Dong Monday had just moved in from North Viet Nam. The Communist unit was beaten off, but with severe government losses.

Two other Viet Cong attacks were launched in the region Monday. Vietnamese officers say one of the attacking battalions moved into Viet Nam recently from Laos. Another battalion had come into Viet Nam from the Cambodia-Laos area late last year.

An American spokesman told newsmen in Saigon that he was baffled as to the real reason for the sudden concentration of Viet Cong effort in the central area.

OBITUARIES

(The Warren Times-Mirror does not charge for obituary notices. A small charge for advertising is made direct to the funeral directors for the notices in which the names of their funeral homes appear.)

GEORGE J. KENNEDY

George Joseph Kennedy, 62, of 618 Beech St., died at 8 p.m. Tuesday, July 7, 1964, in the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Erie after an illness of three weeks.

Familiarly known to friends as "Mike," Mr. Kennedy was born in Warren on Feb. 2, 1902, the son of the late Michael and Margaret E. Kennedy of Beech St., and had been a lifelong resident of the community. He was a veteran of World War II, having served with the Combat Engineers. Prior to his retirement in 1954, he was employed as a conductor for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. He entered the employment of that utility when he was about 14.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Church; Chief Cornplanter Post 135, American Legion; and of Warren Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose.

Surviving are six grandchildren, also a brother, Willis T. Kennedy of Erie.

The funeral service will be conducted in St. Joseph's Church at 9 a.m. Saturday by the Rev. Alfred M. Bauer, pastor. Burial will follow in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

CARL E. ANDERSON

Carl E. Anderson, 84, of 10 Hazard Place, Youngsville, died at 10:45 p.m. Tuesday, July 7, 1964. He was a retired bookkeeper.

Mr. Anderson was born in Pittsfield on Sept. 18, 1879, the son of Swan and Bertha Anderson. He was a member of Saron Lutheran Church in Youngsville; a 50-year member of Mount Hermon Lodge 118, F. & A. M., of Asheville, N. C.; and held the office of worthy patron in Youngsville Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, from 1936 until 1957.

Surviving are two children, Carl M. Anderson, Youngsville, and Mrs. Donald (Dorothea) Agnew, Akron, Ohio; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; a brother, John Anderson, Ridgway; a sister, Mrs. Della Mead, Warren; also several nieces and nephews. His wife, Jenny, died Dec. 16, 1949.

The funeral service will be conducted in Youngsville at 2 p.m. Friday, followed by burial in Youngsville Cemetery.

ANNA F. ROWAND

Mrs. Anna Flynn Rowand, a lifelong resident of Bradford and the widow of Edwin H. Rowand, died at 8:35 p.m. Tuesday, July 7, 1964, in Warren General Hospital. She had been ill for the last year.

Survivors include three children, Mrs. Jane Bevevino, Warren; Dorothy Rowand, New York City; and Edwin R. Rowand, Erie; four grandchildren; a brother, Charles Flynn Sparks, Nev.; a sister, Mrs. Catherine Jobe, North Warren; also a niece, Mrs. Walter O'Connor, Ferndale, Wash. Another daughter, Maxine, died in 1951.

Mrs. Rowand was a member of St. Bernard's Catholic Church in Bradford and the funeral service will be conducted there Friday morning. Burial will follow in St. Bernard's Cemetery.

MRS. DAVID E. LARSON
The funeral of Mrs. Alice M. Larson, wife of David Eric Larson of Warren Rd., Route 2, Frewsburg, N. Y., was conducted at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Frewsburg by the Rev. Virgil A. Erling of Zion Lutheran Church. Mrs. Larson died at her home on July 5, 1964.

Serving as bearers for burial in the family plot in Pine Grove Cemetery in Russell were Walfrid J. Larson, Merritt V. Larson, Stanley Gilbert, Peter and David Hanson and Neil S. MacNeil.

Funerals

CARL E. ANDERSON
Friends will be received in the McKinney Funeral Home in Youngsville, from 2 until 4 and 7 until 9 p.m. Thursday, and the service will be conducted there at 2 p.m. Friday. Burial will follow in Youngsville Cemetery.

ANNA F. ROWAND
Friends will be received in the Koch-Chatley Funeral Home in Bradford, starting this evening, and the funeral service will be conducted in St. Bernard's Catholic Church in Bradford Friday morning. Burial will follow in St. Bernard's Cemetery.

GEORGE J. KENNEDY
Friends will be received in the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home at the usual calling hours, starting at 7 p.m. Thursday, and the parish Rosary will be recited there at 8 p.m. Friday. The service will be conducted in St. Joseph's Church at 9 a.m. Saturday by the Rev. Alfred M. Bauer. Burial will follow in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

F. E. KLINESTIVER

Frank E. Klinestiver, 73, of Gary, Ind., died at his home Tuesday morning, July 7, 1964. A former resident of Sheffield, he is survived by his wife, Josephine Porch Klinestiver; a son, John, and two grandchildren, Indianapolis, Ind.

Also surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Paul Klinestiver, Silverton, British Columbia; Mrs. Edgar Healy, San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Ralph Whitehill, North Warren; Ralph Klinestiver, St. Petersburg Beach, Fla.; Flora Klinestiver, Los Angeles, Calif. Another brother, Lawrence, died in 1955.

The funeral service will be conducted in Gary Friday evening, with burial following in Indianapolis on Saturday.

Nine Negro youths were arrested on a variety of charges at Selma, Ala., where a voter registration campaign is under way.

Eleven leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People continued their tour of Mississippi, cracking racial barriers en route, including two plush resort hotels at Biloxi.

They sent a telegram to Goldwater, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, urging him to visit Mississippi and see conditions under which Negroes live in that state.

They charged Negroes "are being intimidated, terrorized and are afraid to exercise their basic right to register and vote."

These officials are trying to assess the Soviet Union's intentions in the light of its split with Red China and the fact that it is facing a loss of its vote in the United Nations because of refusal to pay assessments for past U.N. peace-keeping operations.

Disclosure of the Soviet move came Monday night with the release in Tokyo of a Soviet note to Japan calling for the formation of the U.N. military force under the Security Council, the troops to be supplied by the smaller U.N. members, including Communist countries. The five veto powers of the council would provide funds but no troops.

U.S. officials are still puzzled by the fact that the note was presented first to Japan and made public there by the Foreign Office.

The United States and Great Britain were not given official Soviet outlines of the proposal until Tuesday night.

Scranton—

but the nation at large. Scranton, scheduled to arrive here for a mid-afternoon airport rally and news conference, said before he left Chicago that Goldwater's people are using "every conceivable kind of pressure and threat" to keep the nomination away from him.

Appearing on a national NBC television program, the Pennsylvania governor said: "They are trying to create a political steamroller unparalleled for its toughness, its callousness, its total disregard for the opinion of rank and file Republicans."

Contending that "every survey taken" shows he is preferred by Republicans as the nominee over the Arizona senator, Scranton continued:

"Senator Goldwater's managers know this, so they have undertaken a no-holds-barred campaign to see to it that the delegates at the convention do not reflect the wishes of the people back home."

In the same vein, Scranton said the Goldwater delegates are "under the iron whip of discipline" not to demonstrate in any way that they and others already in San Francisco are, as he put it, "the most unhappy group of delegates ever gathered for a convention."

Goldwater himself said in his interview with a reporter for Der Spiegel there would be another ball game come October. In San Francisco, Richard Kleindienst, codirector of the senator's field operations, put it this way: "I think by October there will be a complete new concept between the parties."

Scott conceded that, as the incumbent president, Johnson holds the advantage over any Republican. But Scott said Scranton could overcome this advantage and Goldwater could not.

This shift to an attack on what Scott called Goldwater's "no win" policy marked an apparent departure from the strategy of throwing the convention into turmoil over the civil rights plank in the platform.

The Scranton forces found themselves increasingly fenced in in this latter endeavor.

It became apparent, in the first place, that Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, who was the man to see about any changes made by the Senate in the House civil rights bill, was being given major responsibility in drafting the GOP platform plank on this issue.

The feeling was that whatever McCulloch approved as a plank would be likely to stand up in the convention as a reasonable statement of the party's position despite any committee minority's effort to change it.

McCulloch said only that he believes there is room to compromise the Goldwater and Scranton positions to work out wording endorsing the new Civil Rights Act.

Goldwater voted against the legislation, saying he believes the public accommodations and equal employment opportunities provisions are unconstitutional.

Scott indicated he is inclined to compromise on this point if the platform plank describes the law in terms indicating the Republicans believe it is legal.

Convention leaders said they will ask for agreement on an hour's debate in the convention sessions on any and all amendments that might be proposed there to the platform.

They indicated they would force a convention vote—in which Goldwater's backers presumably would prevail—on any effort to engage in any lengthy, emotion-arousing discussion of civil rights.

Michigan Gov. George Romney, who has not joined in the Scranton demand for a statement affirming the constitutionality of the Civil Rights Act, was scheduled as a witness before the platform committee today.

So was Henry Cabot Lodge, former ambassador to South Viet Nam who resigned his post to come home to support Scranton's bid for the nomination. Lodge has said he doesn't see how the Johnson administration's course in Viet Nam could be made campaign issue.

The reply to this by Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, a member of the Senate-House Republican leadership conference, was succinct.

"Like hell it won't," Brown said.

Lodge said on his arrival Tuesday night after some campaigning for delegates to shift to Scranton in Kansas and Missouri that he was "tremendously encouraged" by his efforts in those two states.

The 1960 vice presidential nominee insisted that while former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has made no public statement, he can be counted as a supporter of Scranton.

Despite this, Scranton's back-

Also X-rayed at the hospital was David Morrison, 13, of Sheffield, who injured his arm while playing baseball.

Joseph Passaro, principal of Warren Area High School, announced that the second session for Typing is to start on July the 13th at 9 a.m. Also starting for the second session is Drivers' Education on July 15th at 9 a.m.

Passaro also stated that anyone coming from out of town should register at the school before the start of school this fall. In doing this it will avoid confusion opening day.

Lana Shield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shield, 907 Conewango Ave., qualified for Typing to the Dean's List for the last term of the 1963-64 three-term academic calendar at Allegheny College.

ers apparently have given up hope that they will get any last-minute public blessing from the former president, whose brother Dr. Milton Eisenhower, will put the Pennsylvania governor's name in nomination.

Scranton said during travels in Illinois he was sure Eisenhower wanted him to run for the nomination but "he has said he will not endorse anyone before the convention."

The general belief among the publicly uncommitted leaders putting the finishing touches on the convention program was that there is likely to be only one ballot, with Goldwater as the winner.

Chip Contest Feature Among Conewango's Junior Golfers

A chipping contest was the weekly featured tournament at the Conewango Valley Country Club Junior Golf Day. The person closest to the pin, (a boy and a girl) from each division were declared winners.

The winners from the prep division were Richie Krappel and Liz Davis. Cadet division gave its prize to John Loranger and Ann Porter?

In the Junior class the winners were Chuck Schmidt and Julie Speidel. Each was awarded a prize by weekly Junior Golf chairman Mrs. Richard Meacham.

Amway Throws Scare Into Keystone Nine

The Amway Indians almost pulled off what could have been called the biggest upset of the year when they gave Steve Peroski and his Jackson Keystone ball team a bad scare. The Amway team pulled out in the lead inning with three runs and looked good enough to keep the score under their belts, but Jackson's managed to chop and pick their way by the revamped Amway nine to edge them, 5-4, in ten innings.

THE KEYSTONE men tied the game in the sixth inning at 3-3 to send the game into extra frames, but in the top of the ninth Mike Smith came streaking home with the tie breaking run. Steve Peroski cracked a solid triple to right to tie the game up again. Tony Prosen made a fine catch of a solid line drive by the Amway first sacker to end what could have been a two run double for the Indians.

A fluke triple by Jim Davis and a single into left field brought the Jackson Keystone men their 15th win of the season and for Steve Peroski the win was his thirteenth. Dick Smith suffered the defeat for Amway. The win for Jackson's puts them in first place in the second half with a 2-0 record.

IN OTHER games around the Recreational League, the Towne and Country managed to knock down the highly rated Youngsville American Legion team with a 6-4 win behind the fine pitching of Jim Ostergard. Butch DeFabio was the big stick for the winners in collecting a triple and a homer.

The Sports Boosters put a scare into Nick Tomassoni's Mets when they built up a 7-4 lead in the sixth inning, but only to see the Mets come back with four more runs in the sixth to come out on top, 8-7. Roger Colvin was the big stick for the winners with two doubles, while Blair Smoulder rapped a triple. Once again the Sports Boosters outhit their opponents, only to find themselves lacking in the runs department. Grant Green led the hitting attack for the losers with a homer and double, while Bob Reese, Larry Steele, Phil Cerra and Paul Vigil laced doubles. Vigil took the defeat for the Boosters.

RAY BROOSTER hurled his way by the Jaycees, who seemed to be exhausted from the strenuous weekend, with a seven hitter and a 8-2 win. Dick Hummel was the big stick for the winners with a double and a

Hot Stove Results

Tied for First

The American Legion moved into a tie for first place in the Intermediate League by rolling over Lewis Market behind the two hit pitching of Roy Swanson. Swanson fanned 12 men and didn't allow a walk for seven complete innings. The win for the Legion gave them their seventh in nine starts. Roy Swanson cracked a double for the winners for the only extra base knock of the game. Craig Newton suffered the defeat for the Market.

Lopsided Score

Glass-Tite won one of the highest scoring games of the year by one side in knocking over the Elks Club, 29-1, in the Midget League play. Ronnie Carrington was the big gun for the winners with a double and five singles to his credit along with picking up the pitching victory. Mark English also rapped out four doubles for the victors. Pat McCay was the losing hurler for the Elks.

Extra Innings

The Riverside Acid ate up the Post Office Zips in nine innings behind the relief pitching of Curt Brew, 6-5. Manny Peterson took the pitching loss in relief and also collected two doubles to his credit at the plate.

Still in First

Warren Car remain in first place in the Midget League with a 3-1 victory over Fairhart-Davis. Chuck Loomis and Marc Salerno shared the mound duties during the game and managed to only allow two hits to the opposing nine. Mark Salerno and Robbie Hughes rapped out doubles for the winners, while Louie Vizzo put the lid on the can with two run homer in the fifth inning. Jim Monahan was the losing hurler for Barnhart-Davis.

Vets Win 4th

The VFW of Warren won their sixth game of the season with a 4-1 victory over Engel and Son in the Midget League. Craig Young was the winning hurler and collected two hits to his name for the night, among which were a triple and a homer. Jim Shem and Danny Shirk came through with the other base knocks for the winners. Dick Smith was the losing hurler for Engel, with no extra base hits to back him up.

Big Homer

Nelson Bros hit their way by the Garrison-Wolfe team last night and came up with a 9-7 victory and their fourth of the season. Joey Williams was the winning hurler in going the distance, while Joe Bertetto took the defeat for Garrison-Wolfe. Mark Shaffer cracked a homer for the winners in the latter part of the game which proved to win the game, while John Hahn, Bill Dentler, John Gree and Hugh Nelson laced doubles to help pace the hitters.

Quiggle Stars

Terry Quiggle managed to hit and pitch his way by the Dorcon Bombers with a 11-4 win. Quiggle looked sharp on the mound in striking out nine batters and allowing just seven hits. At the plate he smashed a homer, triple and a double. Doug Cameron took the loss. Gary Smith, Tim Carlson, Mike Donovan and Jon Loranger cracked doubles for the winners.

Big Upset

The Eltronics nine winless wonders of the Intermediate league pulled off what could be called the biggest upset of the year in the league when they beat the league leading Lions, 4-1. Bob Carrington grooved his way by the not so loud Lions with a five hitter and striking out 12 men at the plate. Butch Black, Larry Gray, Freeman Franklin, Danny Honhart and John Zawacki all laced doubles to push their team to victory. Phil Simmons rapped a double for the losers to account for the only extra base blow of the night. Jim Rieder took the loss for the Lions.

Edge Blue Manor

The Autobody behind the homeroom of Bobby Maher edged by Blue Manor Restaurant last night in Midget League play, 9-8. Mike Work started for the winners, but was relieved by Mark Dutches in the final stages of the game. Nick Wendelboe was the losing hurler and gave up another homer to Jim Tome, a triple to Joe Helfrich and a double to Mark Campbell.

Sportsmen To Consider Resolution Okayed by PGSC

Action to be taken by Warren County Council of Sportsmen's Club in its first fall session will include consideration of a resolution presented by PGSC of Russell at the June meeting in Spring Creek.

THE RESOLUTION referred to pollution and the killing of fish and the need for laws to fight such things. It was moved that a resolution be brought to the next meeting and then voted on.

Earl Arnold reported briefly on the Field Day to be held at the Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club on September 20, all clubs are to contact him as to what they will enter in the field day event.

RAY DICKERSON reported on Game and Bill Peterson on the recent meeting of the North Western Division at Lindesville and also explained facts about the recent Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Club meeting in Warren County.

It was voted to send a letter to Wallace Dean, President of the Game Commission, on opening the mouths of streams, which run into the Allegheny River, to sucker fishing during the closed season between March 4 and April 15.

GUEST SPEAKER for the evening was Bill Wentz, Superintendent of the Allegheny National Forest. Wentz gave a talk on the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Club meeting and the trip taken by bus to the Kinzua Dam and Wetmore strip mine and other places of interest.

He stated that all enjoyed the trip, also that the Rimrock Recreation Area will be open weekends to the public for picnicking.

HE ALSO reported that Dick Brester would be working with Paul Sundheimer, timber manager.

Chuck Merroth, Department of Forest and Water reported 100 per cent surveillance by airplane for pest survey with two more flights to be made this summer in July and August.

IT WAS STATED at the meeting that Warren County is the best in the state for having the least forest fires.

Merroth is being transferred and the council stated that he will be missed in the local club for the support he has given the council.

BILL OVERTURF, land manager for Pennsylvania Game Commission, spoke on the spring planting underway. They have planted soy beans for deer food, feed in the woods looking good this year and June berries are in good supply.

An ecologist with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife service, Dr. Ward Sharp, reported cotton tail rabbits are doing real well, and sugar maple crop is excellent.

FISH WARDEN Ken Corey announced that 1,000 fingerling trout were stocked around the county, 1,500 legal sized trout in Big Brokenstraw. Motor boat license numbers have not arrived but the receipt given by the issuing agent will be honored until they do arrive.

The next meeting will be held at the Corplanter Rod and Gun on September 3, 1964.

THE SPORTS BOOSTERS put a scare into Nick Tomassoni's Mets when they built up a 7-4 lead in the sixth inning, but only to see the Mets come back with four more runs in the sixth to come out on top, 8-7. Roger Colvin was the big stick for the winners with two doubles, while Blair Smoulder rapped a triple. Once again the Sports Boosters outhit their opponents, only to find themselves lacking in the runs department. Grant Green led the hitting attack for the losers with a homer and double, while Bob Reese, Larry Steele, Phil Cerra and Paul Vigil laced doubles. Vigil took the defeat for the Boosters.

RAY BROOSTER hurled his way by the Jaycees, who seemed to be exhausted from the strenuous weekend, with a seven hitter and a 8-2 win. Dick Hummel was the big stick for the winners with a double and a winning pitcher. The winner of the contest will be announced in Friday evening's edition of the paper.

County 'Days' At Bucs' Game

This coming Saturday the Pittsburgh Pirates roll out the red carpet for the Warren County citizens at Forbes Field. This is the second year of what is now going to be an annual event.

Buses and cars will be taking the trip to the steel city to witness the Pirates and Milwaukee Braves square off in a single game.

Miss Barbara Nobbs will be honored before the game along with Mayor Langdon. The winner of the batboy contest will be chosen Friday at 10 a.m. from a host of postcards and letters. The batboy will be given the job of the regular batboy at the game and will meet all the ball players before in the locker room. Danny Pasquarotto was the winner in last year's contest. The queen will be accompanied by members of the Jaycee committee.

Chuck Merroth, Department of Forest and Water reported 100 per cent surveillance by airplane for pest survey with two more flights to be made this summer in July and August.

IT WAS STATED at the meeting that Warren County is the best in the state for having the least forest fires.

Merroth is being transferred

Zoning for Safety

There were five happy people in this party which had just launched a 14-foot aluminum skiff onto the deep waters of the Tionesta Reservoir last Saturday. Grandma, fresh blankets heaped on her lap, sat in the bow with a bright blonde, pretty granddaughter of about five years. Another granddaughter a couple of years older and just as lively sat with her mother in the middle seat. The father had just given the starting cord tug, the motor coughed blue and its five horses pushed the boat from the shoreline. They were from Sharon enroute to their camp one mile up the reservoir — a spot which the grandmother praised long and loud. She was in love with this bit of Tionesta wilderness. She was a typical Tionesta camper.

The boat had preservers enough. The two girls sported gaudy life jackets. And it was quickly evident to any ashore that all safety devices were needed. Loaded with weekend camp provisions, the skiff had barely eight inches of free board. Ahead, behind and across the path of the Sharon campers came powerful propelled boats . . . big craft 16 to 18 feet long. They generated a succession of rolling waves in which the camping family bobbed. Anxiously we watched them proceed up the reservoir until the bend blotted out their course. We were relieved that, so far, nothing happened.

So far nothing disastrous has happened to the steadily-thickening mixture of boaters which is using the Tionesta Reservoir. But the possibility persists that something disastrous, like a drowning or a bad boating accident can occur here over any summer weekend. Tionestans concerned both with water safety and the continuation of the reservoir as a pleasant place to swim, ski, camp, fish and picnic have already called one meeting of all water users to see if they cannot agree on a plan of sharing the reservoir's 6.3 mile recreation pool. Other meetings will come.

Those who attended the first meeting quickly agreed that "something must be done." When 174 boats come to use a 480 acre body of water, there is bound to be some crowding. If all 174 boats belonged to fishermen, who would either anchor at a certain spot or troll near shore and snags on a set course, 174 boats would mean no traffic or use problem at Tionesta. But when a majority of the boats belong to people who enjoy the exhilaration of water skiing at the highest speeds, executing the sharpest turns, who need three-mile zig-zag courses, things and tempers in the Tionesta are going to come to a boil.

Laws Unrealistic

Any laws which try to say that boats would not be operated beyond an eight miles per hour limit or within so many feet of fishermen are now proved unrealistic, because the state does not have many acres of boatable water to apportion to fishermen alone. It can be argued, but unsuccessfully, that fishermen were the first on the scene and other pleasure boaters are usurpers. The facts are that fishermen are outnumbered and outgunned. Debate as they may, fishermen are going to have to concede peaceful settlement with other water users.

In the case of the Tionesta, zoning is the answer, if the areas and boundaries can be agreed upon. It would appear to be a simple matter to say that water skiers can have the pool from a safe distance above the launching ramp to the Boy Scout Camp. They, however, say they need more, including the bay at the flats for their turns. The fishermen reply that it is in this bay and near the Scout camp where trolling produces the best catches of muskellunge. In addition fine lunge is taken in the U — from the boat ramp and to the trash boom and in John's Run Cove — but this too is skier's turning water.

Some of Reservoir Wasted

The facts are that the fishermen are outnumbered now and will be so on the Tionesta, unless the Kinzua next year is a greater attraction. It is possible with the completion of the Sharpsville reservoir some Mercer County skiers will switch to the Shenango pool. But they may not, for there are few water-spots as beautiful as the Tionesta winding through the green hills.

One Franklin water skier says that even zoning may not be the solution at Tionesta. It seems, he says, that some of the pleasure boaters there lack "intelligence." He points out that similar activity on the Clarion River is not so hectic. We are not advocating that fishermen concede their best pool at the Tionesta to water skiers, without some trade.

And the U. S. engineers can do something for the fishermen in the meantime. The lower crook of the Tionesta pool now out of bounds to all boats, should be opened a safe distance from the tower, for fishermen who want to troll for muskies or fish for bass. This water has been fished from shore only since the dam was built in 1941. With the reservoir crowded, it seems the U. S. Army Engineers should permit at least limited boating in the pool that extends to the breastworks. It should be opened to fishing boats only, at the earliest possible moment. The unused pool is being wasted. It could prevent crowding and tragedy.

Lema Leads on Front Nine

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Champagne Tony Lema, second choice in the betting although he has never played in Britain before, shot a one-over-par 37 on the front nine today in the first round of the British Open Golf Championship.

Lema had all pars except on the fourth hole.

Doug Ford, former Masters and PGA champion, took 36 for the same route over the Old Course at historic St. Andrews.

Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz., the 50-year-old veteran who finished second way back in 1939 and again in 1946, ruined a good round with some bad putting, and finished with a 78.

Play was under really rough conditions. Huge gusts of wind blew in from the North Sea and the greens were dried out and lightning fast.

National Finally Evens Series, Topple AL Stars in 7-4 Victory

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — It took the National League 31 years to draw even with the American in All-Star warfare Tuesday and in the end it was an ex-American Leaguer who did it.

Wondrous Willie Mays, as usual, starred in the field and on the bases. Billy Williams and Ken Boyer smashed home runs. Jim Bunning had a stellar performance.

Alston Is Happy Over NL Triumph

By MIKE RATHET

NEW YORK (AP) — "He's beat us enough. I figured he owed me something."

Walt Alston was laughing. His National Leaguers had just whipped the American League 7-4 in Tuesday's All-Star game, tying the lengthy series at 17 victories apiece with one tie.

The player he was talking about was Philadelphia's Johnny Callison, one of Alston's supplementary selections.

Callison, who hit two homers in two games against Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers recently, capped the National League's decisive four-run rally in the last of the ninth with a three-run homer.

"Callison's a great all-around player, that's one of the reasons I picked him," said Alston. "Then, too, I wanted some more left-handed hitting. Besides, the way he's hit against us, he owed me one."

Callison paid the debt with one swing — his first against Boston's Dick (The Monster) Radatz in the ninth.

"I was glad nobody said anything when I went up there," said Callison. "It might have scared me. Radatz is sneaky fast, so I was just looking for the first pitch to come over."

Ex-Assistant Pro At CVCC Winner In Ham-Am Meet

Playing in distinguished company at Pittsburgh's St. Clair Country Club Monday, a former assistant pro at Conewango Valley Country Club was in the winning foursome to cop the annual Ham-Am tourney.

Fred Paine, at CVCC under Tohy Lyons some years ago, joined forces with Dick Groat, former Pirates shortstop, Gus Andreone, Edgewood Pro and Al Lupino, Pittsfield Field Club to card a nine under par 62.

The quartet shot seven birdies, one eagle and ten pars to take first prize in the pro-amateur-celebrity event. Other notables included Perry Como, Bob Prince and Eddie Arcaro.

Paine, who was former state amateur champion from Oakmont, is married to the former Barbara Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, 26 Franklin St.

Titusville Coach Quits Position

TITUSVILLE—Titusville High School's head coach, Chal Port, has resigned to accept a teaching and coaching post at The Citadel in Charleston, S.C.

Football coach for six years and assistant basketball and track coach, Port will remain in Titusville throughout the summer to complete his job with the recreation program before assuming his new duties at the southern college.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

(Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.)

FOR THURSDAY, JULY 9

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Favorable Mars influences place you in a highly propitious spot for gains if you will exercise your know-how and discretion. Stress accuracy and pay no heed to rumors.

APRIL 21 to MAY 20 (Taurus) — Wait your turn when you should, but be eager, ready for action when the time is ripe. Good stellar aspects encourage you to pursue the difficult with as much assurance as easier tasks.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — A new chance to capitalize on your versatility. But mind the snags and usual pitfalls. Don't rush in where angels fear to tread.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Don't wait for advantages now — go seek and meet. In projects involving others, consider the temperaments of all and hold your own emotions in strict check. Thus you can gain the lead.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Mixed influences. Question and investigate where there is margin for error. Do not accept suggestions blindly. And do not expect more than is reasonable.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Scattered efforts will confuse, lead you off course. You can win big gains if you buckle down to essentials and STAY with them.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Maintain a business-like approach in serious matters without, however, taking yourself or others too seriously. Challenges now indicated that should uplift, give you new, better ideas!

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Wait for needed facts before taking action, but don't delay so long that you actually lose out on opportunities. You must be an able manager in "little" things if the big ones are to go along smoothly.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Consider results from past actions or decisions you intend repeating. If they were inadequate strive to better your efforts this time. Day's influences encourage good teamwork.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — A period for ACTION! Put all you have into day's endeavors; your best thoughts, plans, efforts. Look for the unexpected, and appreciate all as it comes in.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — A sharp and unexpected surge of activity in some areas. But you will be called upon to maintain the right tempo and keep order. Genuine effort will be appreciated.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Some people will distract, or try to. Others will be following your lead, your manner of handling things. So on all levels YOU are an important pivot. Think it BIG, BRIGHT.

YOU BORN TODAY are artistic, intellectual, investigative, friendly, kindly to animals and the helpless; have an astute business head on steady shoulders. If you maintain confidence in yourself and curb hypersensitivity, you can be successful in a monetary way, and roundly happy family-wise. You ask questions, are never quite satisfied with answers; would do well in accounting, archeology, history, the theatre; usually tell ordinary tales with humor and the ability to bring out fine details. Birthdate of: Elias Howe, sewing machine inventor; Henry Hallam, English historian.

World News in Brief

LONDON (AP) — The channel ferry Arromanches gave 677 French schoolchildren an unexpected thrill today. It ran aground off the south coast of Britain.

The rising tide refloated the 2,404-ton ship and the children were landed at Newhaven Pier. There were no casualties.

MOSCOW (AP) — The head of the Soviet Union's Aeroflot airline says Russian designers are working on a supersonic airliner and hope to have it flying before the United States gets one aloft.

Yevgeny Loginov told a news conference Tuesday he could not predict the speed of the Soviet plane, but it would be faster than the 1,450-mile-an-hour Concorde airliner on which Britain and France are collaborating.

The Concorde is scheduled to enter service in 1970. The American plane, expected to be bigger and faster, will not be ready then.

Long Road to Broadway Begins Outside Door to Danville's Summer Playhouse

By BOB COOPER

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP) — For some, the long road to Broadway begins at a small outdoor theater just outside Danville.

The Pioneer Playhouse, brainchild of a frustrated actor, produces only original plays, most of them written by yet-unknown playwrights. About half the cast is made up of apprentice actors and actresses.

Eben Henson's acting career was just beginning to bud in 1948 when his father died and he was forced to return to his Danville home to look after some family property. "I just decided if I couldn't go to New York, I'd bring a little of New York down here," Henson says. So he founded the playhouse.

For the first 12 years, standard plays, already shown on Broadway and in road shows, were presented. Three years ago, Henson and his company decided to limit productions to originals.

"We produced 32 plays in three years and will have 10 more this year. We do one a week for 10 weeks, beginning June 25," he said.

He gets about 10 actors from New York, has another 10 apprentices in training each year. If he needs more "extras," he recruits local talent.

About 25 high school graduates are accepted in the drama school at the playhouse each summer, at a tuition fee of $300 each. They study all facets of stagecraft and get a chance to see professionals in action.

"For some of them," Henson explains, "it gives them a real look at the theater and lets them know that it isn't the profession for them. For others, it is the first step toward an acting career."

SUMMER STOCK — Vi Kapp acts out a gag for her boss, Eben Henson, producer of Pioneer Playhouse in Danville, Ky. The playhouse produces only new plays, most of them by young playwrights.

Henson owns 18 acres of land on which the playhouse is situated. He rents parts of to a garage, a restaurant, a grocery and a plastics manufacturer. His box office is the railroad station that was used in the movie,

"Raintree County." With these incomes, plus talent as a scavenger and ability as a handyman, Henson can devote all his time to working on his theater—and talking about it.

In a tour of the grounds, a visitor finds almost nothing that hasn't been donated, then improvised upon by Henson. His box office is the railroad station that was used in the movie, "Raintree County."

"See those bricks in the floor of the theater," Henson says, for example, "They were tearing down a building in town and told me I could have them if I'd haul them away."

"The stage over there is made out of the roof of the same building," he adds with obvious pride.

Henson produces the plays, which are directed by Irving Strouse of New York, who donates his services. Irene Wicker of New York and Jane Lambert of Lexington, both experienced actresses, also contribute their time free.

"The four of us read all the plays submitted to us," Henson says, "and we select the ones we will do during a summer. We always start with the best one from the previous year."

When Henson and his group feel they have an outstanding play, they try to get critics from New York to come see it.

Playwrights whose plays are accepted receive transportation expenses and room and board for two weeks—one while the play is being rehearsed, one while it is being shown.

"Somewhat we hope to keep all 10 playwrights here during the whole 10-week period," Henson says. "Then they can help each other on their plays."

"And one of these days we hope to start producing motion pictures here. Then we'll go to a year-round basis."

So far, none of the plays presented by the playhouse has made it to Broadway, "but three of them are under option. And six of our apprentice actors have appeared on Broadway and four others in movies," he said.

Peanut Scrambles Draw Crowds to Playgrounds

Peanut scrambles and sunny weather drew hundreds of children to the borough playgrounds yesterday.

AT DEFREEZ playground 40 participants saw Tom Hagberg, in the 5-6 year old division, win the scramble to get the most peanuts. Sally Brown, Ronnie Gustafson, and two-time winner Tom Hagberg garnered the special peanuts. In the 7-12 age bracket, Mark Torrance scrambled for the most peanuts, while Cindy Avaval, Mark Krumm, Beth Woodbridge, and Ray Madigan won the "special peanuts" awards.

Winners at Crescent playground were Mark Hahn, Veretta Ace, Debby Rickerson, and Larry Madigan.

Scranton Has Two Good Days Among Illinois Grassroots

By RELMAN MORIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton has had two pretty good days in Illinois, cultivating the grass-roots voters and trying to start a political prairie fire against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The crowds that turned out to hear him were friendly, attentive and largely responsive.

In two instances, at a shopping center in southwest Chicago and in Mattoon, people braved rain to listen to him. In Evanston, where he lashed at Goldwater in one of his sharpest attacks since he declared for the Republican presidential nomination, supporters shouted "Give it to him," and "Give him hell, Bill."

But the pivotal question remains: Can Scranton, through his appeal to the Republican man-on-the-street, put enough pressure on the 58-man Illinois delegation, to pull any considerable number of votes away from the GOP candidate?

Scranton on Tuesday revived a fine and effective old tradition of presidential campaigns—the whistle-stop. It paid off for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

The reaction to Scranton's railway faray caused him to say, "I believe we have picked up some delegate votes. It looks good. I was surprised by the size of the crowds because this has been heralded as Goldwater territory."

He traveled from Springfield to Decatur, Mattoon, Champaign and Kankakee. Then he spoke in Evanston. In Evanston, a crowd gathered in Fountain Square, on four sides of the rostrum, to hear Scranton. It looked to be in the neighborhood of 10,000, and it was vociferous. Again, the Goldwater placards appeared, along with "We want Barry" chanting.

Scranton drew cheers with phrases criticizing "the philosophy of negotiation—the slow death of blind reaction—an exclusion-minded minority—a never-ever-land that puts our nation somewhere back in the 19th century."

Once or twice, the applause and banner-waving went on so long that Scranton had to halt it with gestures.

This is the eleventh hour before the balloting begins in San Francisco. The odds appear overwhelming against Scranton.

But the governor himself and those around him continue to look astonishingly confident.

I LOVE THAT

Pollster Says Barry Can't Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A pollster employed by Gov. Scranton, says his latest survey shows that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona wouldn't carry one state if he were the Republican candidate against President Johnson.

E. John Bucci of Philadelphia said Goldwater would be "a sure loser," collecting only 30.7 per cent of the total projected vote across the nation.

Johnson, he said, would win at least 45 states, losing only Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and possibly Maryland, should Gov. George Wallace of Alabama run on a third party ticket.

Bucci said Tuesday the survey was ordered and paid for by Scranton, that it was completed in June—after Goldwater won the California primary—and was one of the reasons that Scranton decided to seek the GOP presidential nomination himself.

Bucci said his sampling reached 1,200 persons in seven states — Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Wisconsin and Missouri—and provided "barometer areas which enables us to project all across the nation."
